REASSURING FACTS CONCERNING MIRROR REAL ESTATE

The Toronto "Saturday Night," which is one of the leading weeklies in Canada receives many enquiries regarding real estate values, particularly in Western Canada. Their "Gold and Dross" page is widely read and a good many people pin their faith to the opinions expressed therein.

The enquiries come from people who have invested in many of the newer towns and who are apparently a little dubious as to the actual value of their investment. For this reason the replies given to Mirror property owners should prove very gratifying indeed.

In the issue of Feb. 22nd, 1913, the following is given: H. E. N. Winnipeg—"Hold your Mirror lots. The town is yet in shirt trousers, and is not ashamed of the fact."

Again on March 1st, 1913—W. F. Belleville—"Mirror lots are worth holding."

To any of the doubting ones who have heretofore and are even now ambiguous as to the future of Mirror, the above advice from a party, who is considered an authority on such matters, should prove quite sufficient for even the most pessimistic individual.

LOCAL STOCK MARKET PROVES A GREAT SUCCESS

The stock market which Benish & Co., butchers, have opened up in Mirror, is proving a great boon to the farmers and they are not slow in realizing the advantages of having a permanent market to dispose of their live stock and produce.

Previous to this it has been the custom of buyers sometimes to come into the district when the price of stock was on the up, and buy up and sort out the pick of the stock, at times leaving the farmer with a number of animals on his hands that he could not dispose of until the buyers were ready to ship again. The date of shipment was not always convenient nor was it always an opportune time for the farmer to haul his stock to market.

With a permanent market established in Mirror shippers of stock can depend on a buyer at any time, and Benish & Co. have signified their willingness to buy any quantity, regardless of the condition of the outside market.

The local firm are deserving of the hearty support of the farmers in thus giving them a market for all stages of the year and enabling them to sell when their stock is in marketable condition.

MINNESOTA MAN BUYS FARM LAND

L. E. Humphrey left this morning (Friday) for his home in Sleepy Eye, Minn., after a visit of a week or so. Notwithstanding his short sojourn, Mr. Humphrey was so impressed with the prospects around Mirror that he purchased the No. 6 Farm, six miles north-east of Mirror, and will return about the first of June with a number of land-buyers. R. H. Horniman put the deal through.

Although it was Mr. Humphrey's first visit to Alberta, he is now a most enthusiastic booster for this particular part of Alberta.

DANCE WELL ATTENDED

The dance given by the Royal Neighbors in Cook's hall, last Monday evening, was a very enjoyable affair from start to finish. Everything passed off in a pleasant manner, and at the conclusion of a tasty lunch, Andy Rae proceeded to auction, a number of articles, which the ladies of the Lodge had prepared. The sale netted the Lodge about $27; the combined receipts of the dance and sale totalling about $72. The inclement weather prevented many from attending, although fifty couples danced till early morn.

Andy Rae has taken out an auctioneer's license, and is now prepared to attend to all auction sales. Mr. Rae was previously in the same line, and should make a success of it.

RATEPAYERS UNDECIDED AS TO COST OF SCHOOL BUILDING

The meeting called for Tuesday evening in the school house for the purpose of discussing the proposed by-law to raise $15,000 for the erection of a school house in Mirror was anything but well attended, when the importance of the decision is taken into consideration. The resident ratepayers, who are the people that will be benefited by the building of an up-to-date school, are showing a regrettable lack of interest in a subject that is of vital importance to all.

The meeting was called for the express purpose of hearing the views of the residents, and the School Board were desirous of finding out just what was wanted; whether a $15,000 school should be erected, or whether a $20,000 or $25,000 structure should be built. The consensus of opinion, however, seemed to be all in favor of building a school that would be a creditable addition to Mirror and yet prove adequate to meet the requirements of the town for several years.

At the present time there are over fifty scholars enrolled at Mirror, and this number will be increased by fully fifty percent before many months. Even now it is compulsory for the board to provide additional accommodation for the pupils to comply with the school regulations and the most optimistic of our townspeople predict that in less than a year a four-roomed school will be none too large for the town of Mirror, judging by the present population.

Inspector Thibodeau, who paid a visit to the school last week stated that the school is now overcrowded and another room will be necessary at once, which would also necessitate another teacher. He strongly recommends the erection of a four-roomed school house, and if at all possible a six roomed building. It was a wise policy to build a school that would meet the requirements of a growing and prosperous town and district. If the Consolidated Rural Schools legislation went into force, it would mean at least one, and perhaps two more rooms to the Mirror school.

After a somewhat desultory discussion it was moved and seconded that another meeting be called for Wednesday evening, March 20th, in the King George restaurant; also that the School Board combine with the Council in preparing some plan of action and securing all necessary data in regard to the amount of revenue available, cost of buildings and any information that will be of interest in the undertaking.

Every ratepayer should attend this meeting and lend their support to the School Board, in their endeavour to secure a school that will be a lasting tribute to Mirror.

ANOTHER BUSINESS TO MEET MIRROR'S GROWING NEEDS

During next month another establishment will be added to Mirror's growing business section, as word has been received from Wm. Dennis, of Calgary, stating that he will commence on the erection of a building and bake oven, his special line being a bakery and confectionery store.

Mr. Dennis contemplated an earlier start, but owing to the cold and stormy weather, he has postponed his coming to Mirror until the middle of April. As he intends putting in a brick oven, it is necessary that milder climatic conditions prevail, so as to secure the best results in building the oven.

Mr. Dennis was a visitor in Mirror for a few days, last Christmas, and his decision to open up a bakery in Mirror is a direct result of that visit.

This district has been in the grip of an exceptionally cold snap for the past week, and a very heavy fall of snow has helped to make travelling rather difficult. The same conditions prevail all over the country and the eastern provinces are suffering from the same conditions.

Owing to the cold and stormy weather we have postponed the

He rang the bell, however, and the little maid came flying to his door. Marion noticed that she was looking at him with a look of surprise.

"Oh, sir, I am so glad you have come," she said. "I have known what to do to think."

You have been anxious about Miss Brooke, I suppose, said Marion, looking at her sympathetically.

The girl glanced at him eagerly. Oh, sir, she is Miss Brooke, isn't she? She isn't married, is she?

Marion started. What do you mean? he said quickly.

Oh, I couldn't tell you, sir, that she was married all the time and never said anything about it. But when we came, Mr. Livingston, and said—

Mr. Livingston! When he came about Marion, started, and said, believing his ears.

Oh, yes, sir. He came in his car this morning. He hasn't been here long, and he said Miss Violet was married to him, and he was looking back over his shoulder.

But you will stay here to look after the place till you get instructions from us, to say.

And your mistress has missed a paper which he has said, I must look for it, and I am in a hurry.

Now what to say, I was so taken aback, and he went into the study and into the drawing-room and opened all the drawers and the desk and looked round everywhere, and such a litter he has made—

The girl led the man down the stairs where Marion glanced with a little thrill into Violet's bedroom, where papers and clothes were scattered right and left, and into the sitting-room, where the desk lay open and the contents buried here and there on the table.

I couldn't stop him, sir, said the little maid, almost in tears. I did ask him what it was for, but he wouldn't find it for him, but he pushed me out of the room and ordered me to hold my tongue.

Oh, he was that nifty, I was quite frightened. Oh, I am sure I am an idiot for Miss Violet. But do you think it is true she is married to him, sir, why didn't she tell me, sir, it wasn't Miss Violet.

Marion bit his lip. Why hadn't she told him? But what did this visit of Livingston's mean?

I am afraid it is true, he said after a moment. I—I have known the same thing myself.

Oh, dear, sir, said the girl sadly. Then it must be true, I suppose. But fancy Miss Violet going off on a sudden like that, and without saying anything, or anything. But perhaps it is true—Mr. Livingston, who made her. He is a half-mad gentleman.

Every word of the girl made the Major wince, and he noticed, too, that she looked at him with a look of surprise as he was turning away and pretended to be examining the pictures round the room.

What was the paper your mistress wanted, do you know? he said.

No, sir, he didn't tell me nothing about it. He only said it was very important, and it must have been a letter that he didn't want to lose.

And he didn't tell me!

No, sir. At last I didn't think he'd go on with that story, and he said he'd go on with that story, and he said he'd go on with that story.

Marion's position there was an embarrassing one, he felt, and he could do nothing more, so leaving the girl to tidy up as best she could, he made his way downstairs again.

What did it mean, this sudden visit of Livingston to the flat, and the furious search for the missing paper? Had Violet recovered, and sent the man for it, or was it but another link in the chain of strange events?

It was impossible to say, but Marion felt doubtful and depressed as he returned to his own rooms and set down to think quiet for the first time for many hours.

Putting aside the fact that Violet was still, he could not shake off the feeling that trouble and grief surrounded the young girl whom he had grown to love, while through it all loomed the sinister figure of Livingston. Yet the man was her husband; what could he, Marion do?

CHAPTER XIV

There is a proverb that the night brings counsel, but it brought none to Marion, and she was sitting alone at her breakfast on the following morning wondering what to do with the man who, with a risk to the life of his flat, and Neil was shown through the door.

Marion rose eagerly to welcome him. Count goodness you have come, he said, and he was on the point of saying, "I am so glad to see you."

50,000 OUT OF WORK

Packers of Brittany Declare They Are Unable to Compete With

Paris, France.—(Our Special Correspondent.)—The packing industry in Brittany is definitely closed at the end of the year, throwing 50,000 people out of employment.

Some fifty factories in which there were 100,000 workers are now closed in the region around Concarneau and Brest, and the winter will be a close season on March 1.

The closing down was decided upon some time ago, and it is now the packing industry, which declares that the price of fish is too low.

The fishermen asked for an increase in the price paid for 100 lb. of fish, but the government refused.

This increase the packers were unable to grant. They say they are completely crushed by the cost of labor and their general expenses and are unable to compete with the Spanish and Portuguese packers.

The French packers further declare that instead of demanding higher wages per 100 lb. of fish, the fishermen should have endeavored to cure the authorization to use revolutionary methods in their industry.

Of the 50,000 men, women and children who are out of work, 10,000 are being sent to the colonies by the closing of the packing establishments, many of it, however, will have to leave their homes and seek employment elsewhere. It is feared much distress will result from the crisis.

BAD ROADS AND THE COST OF LIVING

In his address at the annual meeting of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Sir Edmund
Walker, president of the institution, is reported to have said:
"One of the most powerful and inevitable local causes for the high price of food is the condition of our country roads. It must be clear that if a farmer travels ten or twenty miles to a city to sell his produce, every hour of delay to himself and his horses and wagon, every bushel or pound less he is able to carry, every day lost in the life of his horses and wagon, cause just so much increase in the costs of the article he has to sell. To the extent that this needless and cruel loss might, if avoided, partly add to the farmers' profits and partly lessen the cost to the consumers.

The state of our roads is little short of a crime."

It will not do any good for those of us who live in well-paved cities to blame the farmers for bad roads. They cannot be expected to build good roads entirely at their own expense, and good roads will not come so long as we wait for anything as unfair as this."

Sir Edmund points out the systems adopted by thirty-three states of the American Union as an intelligent way to provide good roads. That of New York is said to be the most complete; classifying roads as follows:—

1. State roads built at the entire cost of the state.
2. Country roads to which the state contributes one-half, the county 35 per cent. For maintenance the state collect from the township $50 per an-nnum, the remainder being contributed by the state.

3. Township roads, to which the state contributes one-third of the cost of construction.

This part of the address concludes thus:

"Can the people of Canada be made to realize that every man, woman and child suffers from the evils of bad roads, whether using the roads directly or not?
Have we not as much intelligence as the citizens of these thirty-three neighboring states.

MORMON ORGANI-ZATION TO OPEN CAM-PAIGN IN ALBERTA

The Mormons are about to open up a vigorous campaign in Alberta for converts. The first work will be done in Calgary, and four of the most elugent missionaries of the Carlson colony are to spend some time in Calgary. A force of missionaries are also to be sent all over the province.

There is probably not another denomination in the world so virile as the Mormon organization. Every member of the church is an exhorter, trained from the days of Sunday school, where he learns to speak in public. The result is that there are probably more orators of the Church of Latter Day Saints, as they prefer to be called, than any other religious organization extant.

And the word of the official at the head of the organization is law. If some clever business man, known as a good speaker, is wanted to do missionary work, he is simply told to go,
and that is all there is to it.
He goes. If his business interferes with the purposes of the church, he cuts out the business.
He goes forth into the world,
across the seas, anywhere the great mother church says, like the disciples of old, without scrip or staff, living on the country from which he seeks his converts. In Utah, the home of the church, when one is sent abroad on a mission, he is supposed to remain away three years.

IMPLEMENT MEN WILL FIGHT SIFTON GOVERNMENT

BECAUSE GOVERNMENT REFUSES TO WITHDRAW BILL FOR PROTECTION OF FARMERS, REPRESENTATIVES OF MANUFACTURERS THREATEN TO PUT SIFTON OUT OF BUSINESS

Edmonton—Because Premier Sifton and his colleagues have passed the "Farm Machinery Act," which is legislation for, and directly in the interests of the farmers of Alberta, the threat has been openly made that the machinery interests will put the Liberal government out of power at the next elections. Not one, but many times, has the above statement been made. It has been made to private members in the House, and in a veiled way to cabinet ministers, who have been waited on by the agents and representatives of the machinery and implement houses, and in some cases the campaign against the government has already been started.

The new act is one of the most advanced pieces of legislation yet placed on the statute books of this or any other province.

IT PROVIDES THAT ANY CONTRACT FOR FARM MACHINERY MADE BETWEEN A FARMER AND REPRESENTATIVES OF IMPLEMENT FIRMS SHALL BE SUBJECT TO THE DECISION OF THE COURT AS TO ITS REASONABLENESS AND IF ON THE MATTER BEING TAKEN INTO COURT, THE PRESIDING JUDGE DECIDES THAT THE CONTRACT IS UNREASONABLE, THE FARMER SHALL NOT BE BOUND BY IT.

In the past many cases have been heard where the judge has had to give a decision against the farmer solely on account of the written agreement or contract by which the machinery was purchased, although personally the judge was convinced that the agreement or contract was unreasonable. Under the act just passed in the face of serious opposition from the implement manufacturers and their representatives the Sifton government has changed this, and the decision as to whether the contract is reasonable or not, and as to whether the farmer has to abide by it or not is left with the judge.

The same act also makes the implement firm responsible for all representations made by the agent when selling the machinery, whether these representations are contained in the written agreement or not, and as an additional protection for the farmer clause five of the act contains the following words—

"Notwithstanding anything in the agreement to the contrary, all farm machinery shall be sold as warranted and guaranteed to be made of good material, to be properly constructed both as to design and workmanship, to be in good working order, to satisfactorily perform the work for which it is intended, to be free from latent or other defects, and to be in every way so designed and constructed as to ensure reasonable durability."

Despite the fact that Conservative papers have decried the act and taken the part of the implement men, the executive of the United Farmers of Alberta have fully endorsed the act, which they state is one of the best and most far-reaching acts for the benefit of the farmer, yet passed in any province in Canada. On the other hand the implement manufacturers, who will not now be able to dispose a farmer altogether if he is unable to pay for machinery he has purchased, are preparing to wage a bitter war against a government which places the interests of the farmers against the interests of the manufacturer. It will be interesting to see whether the farmer or the manufacturer wins out when the elections are on.

EMIGRATION INCREASE

Ottawa.—During the eleven months April 1, 1912, to March 1, 1913, of the current fiscal year, 357,331 immigrants arrived in Canada. This total is made up of 133,711 British, 124,398 from the United States and 99,222 from all other countries combined.

The corresponding eleven months of the preceding year gave a total of 311,416 immigrants, and of these 124,483

APPEAL CASE RESULTS IN LIMITATION OF BANK RATE

The judgment of the Privy Council in the Alberta appeal cases of Felix A. McHugh and Thomas P. McHugh against the Union Bank of Canada in connection with a large number of horses taken under chattel mortgage was received in Calgary last Friday.

The Privy Council restores the judgment of his Lordship, Mr. Justice Bock, in the greater part, and reverses the decision of the Alberta Supreme Court on balance and the Supreme Court of Canada.

The effect of the Privy Council's decision is very important insofar as it settles the law for all time as to what rate of interest a bank may collect, which is that it may not collect more than the legal rate of interest, which is seven per cent., and if the lending bank stipulates for a higher rate than seven per cent., the courts may reduce the interest to five per cent., which was done in this instance.

Hon. Malcolm MacKenzie, provincial treasurer of Alberta, and member for McLeod in the Provincial Legislative died suddenly in the General Hospital, Edmonton, early Saturday morning. The cause of death was peritonitis. Mr. MacKenzie was born in Kincairdine, Ont., fifty years ago, and was an honor graduate of Queen's university and a gold medalist in philosophy. He came West twenty-five years ago, and entered into the practice of law. In 1905, he was elected a member of the first Liberal government of Alberta; was re-elected in 1909, and was appointed a member of Premier Sifton's cabinet in May of last year with the portfolio of provincial treasurer. Mr. MacKenzie leaves a sorrowing wife and one son, aged six years.

There are renewed hopes of a cure for tuberculosis. Dr. Frederick Friedman, of Berlin, Germany, has experimented with a serum which he uses by the vaccination method. It has given very good results in about two hundred cases, but the time is too short as yet to say that there has been a cure. At the best two years must elapse before that can be certain. A number of patients in Montreal and Toronto have been treated and a great deal of interest is being taken in the experiments.

There was a young girl named Maecurie That danced with a man who was sturdy In a sale of work It did it all slick. But bought many things for his "birds."
